

Webinar: Role of carbon markets under the Paris climate treaty and impact on EU's climate policies

24 November 2015
3.00-4.30pm CET

Opening Remarks

- Mixed messages regarding role markets will play for countries to achieve INDCs
- Latest Bonn negotiations added 5 pages of language proposals for markets
- Today's webinar focuses on EU as an example because
 - EU's INDC is based on domestic mitigation commitment
 - EU is negotiating linking its EU ETS with Switzerland
 - EU ETS currently under reform; one of the greatest challenges is to contain pre-2020 surplus emission allowances
- Today's objectives:
 - Understand proposals in the negotiation text
 - Map out potential risks of carbon market design for the integrity of the Paris agreement
 - Discuss the implications of joint fulfilment and the role of an international accounting framework
 - Draw lessons for the implications of the Paris agreement for the EU's climate policies and vice versa
