12. What are the main problems/obstacles preventing the current policy from successfully delivering on its objectives? What are the drivers behind these problems?

1500 character(s) maximum

The current governance and decision-making process of the CAP is a main barrier preventing the current policy from delivering on its objectives. Representing almost 40% of the EU budget, the CAP has to be aligned with the EU's environmental, climate and development objectives. This means that many more relevant stakeholders need to be involved in the discussions on the CAP. From a climate perspective, the CAP has not led to a desperately needed shift in agricultural practices. Agriculture is currently responsible for around 10% of the EU's greenhouse gas emissions and these emissions are projected to rise in the coming years. This raises questions about the effectiveness of the €16 billion euro "greening" of the CAP. The CAP has moreover failed to implement the "polluter-pays" principle, and often the polluter is paid instead. Currently the largest share of the budget is directed to the biggest and most polluting farms, while a majority of farmers that host the most biodiversity on their lands lose out. Including other voices in the future CAP negotiations will help to promote the links between the CAP and other policies (such as the Effort Sharing and LULUCF Regulations as well as air quality legislation). This can help ensure that in the future, public money delivers public goods and the CAP reform provides results-based payments for specific environmental or social deliverables. There is a need for a clear decarbonization agenda for the sector to reach net zero in 2050.

13. Which elements of the current CAP are the most burdensome or complex and why?

1500 character(s) maximum

There are certain areas where the direct payments under the CAP result in unnecessary burdens. The flexibility granted to Member States in how the greening payments are implemented has led to ineffective results for the environment and is seen as burdensome by farmers. EU-harmonized and better defined environmental requirements will avoid confusion, unequal treatment and excess burden on farmers.

The CAP reform must take into account the minimum necessary requirements to achieve the objective of sustainable management of natural resources and keeping global warming to well below 2 degrees Celsius. Clearer rules for more targeted measures can hence also ensure that payments have a perceptible environmental benefit.

C. OBJECTIVES AND GOVERNANCE

14. The work of the European Commission focuses on 10 priorities for 2014-2020, most of which are relevant to the CAP http://ec.europa.eu/priorities/index_en

Please indicate the most relevant priorities for which the CAP should do more.

at most 3 choice(s)

- Boosting investment, growth and employment
- Improving connectivity and digitalisation of the rural economy
- Mitigating and adapting to the impact of Climate Change and providing renewable energy
- Strengthening the EU Single Market
- Participating in world trade
- Help addressing challenges related to migration

15. Which of the following should be the most important objectives of the CAP?

at most 5 choice(s)

- Ensuring a fair standard of living for farmers
- Addressing market uncertainties
- Foster competitiveness and innovation of agriculture
- Securing food supply at reasonable prices for consumers
- Encouraging the supply of healthy and quality products
- Contributing to a high level of environmental protection across the EU
- Mitigating and adapting to the impact of climate change
- Developing rural areas while taking care of the countryside
- Achieving a balanced territorial development

16. Do you see the need to add objectives for a modernised CAP; if yes, which ones?

1500 character(s) maximum

As the CAP has outlined environmental, social and economic objectives for agriculture a prominently absent objective is sustainable development. Now that the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) have been developed, providing concrete indicators for progress, the CAP should respond to these international commitments. The following are particularly relevant to the CAP:

Zero hunger

Good health and well-being

Clean water and sanitation

Sustainable communities

Responsible consumption and production

Climate action

Life on land

Additionally, the CAP should be held to the objectives of The Paris Agreement on Climate Change and The Global Convention on Biological Diversity (CBD) to ensure a balanced approach to the multiple objectives of the sector. A modernized CAP must be set in the context of a clear climate strategy for the agricultural sector with the objective of reaching net zero emissions by 2050.

E. WRAP UP: MODERNISATION AND SIMPLIFICATION

31. Do you think the CAP could be simpler if:

	Largely agree	Partially agree	Partially disagree	Largely disagree	Don't know
Overlaps between Rural Development and other CAP Measures would be reduced	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Databases and technologies (remote sensing, smart phones) were better used to reduce the incidence of farm inspections	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
E-government services were more extensively used	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>

More choice was given to farmers in terms of environmental measures	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

32. Do you have concrete ideas for simplifying the CAP and reducing the administrative burden for farmers, beneficiaries (or public administrations)? Please specify and explain the reasons behind your suggestions.

1500 character(s) maximum

The CAP has been burdensome from the perspective of citizens who are interested in seeing the value of the investments. Complications arise due to the many exemptions and loopholes that undermine the objectives of the policy. Simplification of the policy can be achieved by abolishing the inefficient use of funds, in particular the first pillar payments that have no environmental or social requirements attached to them. Instead the budget must be refocused on targeted and smart measures that help achieve the EU's environment and climate objectives. This also requires engagement with farmers to make activities work on the ground.

33. Do you have more ideas for modernising the CAP?

1500 character(s) maximum

Modernising the CAP means a shift away from area-based payments supporting unsustainable practices and move towards the polluter-pays principle as the guiding objective. It will be key to ensure a right climate policy framework is in place to encourage longer-term actions in line with reaching net zero emissions by 2050, and ensure that the future CAP has the right incentives in place to support action on ground, capacity building and knowledge exchange.

The budget should be subject to verification and provide results-based payments for specific environmental or social deliverables. Interventions should follow a programmatic approach whereby concrete results are rewarded with payments, building on the European Commission's LIFE programme and overseen by environmental authorities.

Special attention needs to be given to the promotion of healthier diets which can be achieved by setting up nutritional education programmes in schools and local projects in urban areas.

Finally, the transition should be given due attention by helping farmers who have invested in unsustainable farming models transition to more sustainable ones in the short term.
